Project Pratibha: Bridging Dreams and Empowering Women through Skill Development in Ahmedabad

Ahmedabad, Gujarat - August 10th | Parakh Trust (NGO), a prominent non-governmental organization in Ahmedabad, India, proudly announces the launch of Project Pratibha with the support of eInfochips, a collaborative endeavor driven by a shared commitment to Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR).

The grand inauguration of the Project Pratibha Center, held in Ahmedabad, was graced by distinguished guests, including the Honorable Mayor of Ahmedabad, Mr. Kiritbhai Parmar, Chiragbhai Jain Senior Director of Human Resources, Nileshbhai (HR Manager) and Xama Maheta (eInfochips)

Project Pratibha is a pioneering initiative that encompasses Sewing and Beauty Parlor Training Center, operated by Parakh Trust (NGO). The center aims to become a transformative platform for unemployed and economically disadvantaged women by offering the training free of cost to the beneficiaries. eInfochips is supporting this initiative by funding the center's operational expenses. The inaugural phase of the project focuses on delivering comprehensive training in beauty parlor techniques and sewing skills, empowering women to achieve self-reliance and financial resilience. The initial group of Fase-1, 30 women will be expertly guided by accomplished trainers.

Reflecting on the significance of Project Pratibha, a representative from Parakh Trust (NGO) shared, "We embrace a steadfast belief in the empowerment of women as a cornerstone of sustainable progress. Parakh Trust (NGO) is committed to upholding women's rights and equipping them with the competencies needed to actively participate in decision-making processes. Our gratitude extends to eInfochips for their unwavering support, and we envision Project Pratibha as a catalyst for enriching countless lives, fostering societal strength through women's empowerment."

The core objective of this initiative is to enable women to recognize their individual aptitudes, nurturing them through tailored training to facilitate the establishment of small-scale entrepreneurial ventures or gainful employment, ultimately contributing to their families' well-being and holistic prosperity.

As Project Pratibha sets forth on this transformative journey, it aspires to not only stitch dreams but also weave a tapestry of empowered women, strengthening the fabric of society itself.
